DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 28-32 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 28-33 of copending Application No. 10/695,076. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the subject of the claims of the instant application are encompassed by the limitations set forth in the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 28, 30, and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yuille. The patent to Yuille discloses the a baffle for mixing or agitation where the use of such in a mixing dome housing is merely intended use, comprising a leading upstream edge seen in figure 2 having an edge tapering into the housing 4 near the inlet end near 5, a downstream edge wider than the upstream edge and extending further into the interior of the housing, and an arcuate portion connecting the upstream and downstream edges, where the baffle can be seen to have a surface area that is about one half the cross sectional area of the housing as seen in figures 2 and 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 29 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yuille. The patent to Yuille discloses all of the recited structure with the exception of having the baffle run 210 degrees from upstream to downstream edges, however such is considered a mere choice of mechanical expedients, and forming the baffle in a paisley shape which is considered an obvious choice of mechanical design to alter the shape. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the baffle in

Art Unit: 3754

Yuille to run 210 degrees from upstream to downstream edge as such would only require routine experimentation by one skilled in the art to arrive at optimum working values and such would provide for more mixing if the baffle were turned more. It is considered an obvious choice of mechanical design to form the baffle of any shape as such is merely a choice of mechanical design and it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the baffles in Yuille to be of any shape as such would only require routine experimentation to change the shape to change the flow profile to meet the needs of the user as such is merely a change in mechanical design requiring only routine experimentation.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 28-32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Stahli, Kline (496 and 960), and Spears disclosing state of the art baffles.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
